

Medical Spanish Online

About this course

This course is structured in units, each one revolving on a topic related to the physician-patient interaction. Each unit contains grammar, vocabulary, the dynamics of the spoken interaction, and aspects of sociocultural relevance given by the instructor.

Our lessons are virtual classes where you are supposed to reflect, complete activities, and do extra practice (homework). It is important that you complete the lessons sequentially, as they build upon each other.

The online course can be taken as individual classes or in small groups (in case of similar levels).

Why learn medical Spanish?

Because it makes a huge difference connecting with your Spanish patients in their language, even if you only know basic medical Spanish phrases. Additionally, there are more reasons to learn medical Spanish:

First of all, you can physically see the signs of relief when you use your medical Spanish with patients to establish a positive rapport and understand their situation.

Secondly, you have more confidence and insight on patient conversations when using your interpreters because you know some basic medical Spanish and common medical Spanish phrases for high frequency ideas that you need to communicate.

Additionally, many nursing jobs prefer candidates with some level of bilingualism, and most nursing schools don't have space in their schedules to provide medical Spanish courses.

Teachers & Methodology

All of our teachers are certified native instructors of the language that they teach. You will learn how to speak a language the way it is actually spoken.

Our objective is to take full advantage of the different pedagogical principles for Spanish language education. This way, our methodology combines the latest strategies and methods (process and communicative approaches) with the more traditional ones that have proven to be efficient over many years (formal and functional approaches).

Learning a language is not only about learning grammar and vocabulary, but requires students to be able to put into practice their knowledge in different real-life situations. This also motivates our choice to integrate specific cultural contents (particularly the Argentine and Latin-American one) into the learning process.

Our Team

Our team is composed of highly experienced professionals who are eager to offer our students an exceptional online learning experience. Our Spanish teachers are extremely engaging and fun to learn medical Spanish with, so our courses are low-stress and high-impact.
